

Discover IACET Accreditation

WHO WE ARE

The International Accreditors for Continuing Education and Training (IACET) is a non-profit accrediting body dedicated to enhancing the quality of continuing education and training.

We provide a standardized framework for designing, developing, and delivering training that organizations can follow to ensure their training programs meet the highest standards in the industry.

OUR MISSION

We accredit providers around the world that deliver quality learning and inspire continuous improvement.

OUR VISION

A world that learns better.

WHAT WE OFFER

1. Standards Development:

As an ANSI Accredited Standards Development Organization, IACET is responsible for the developing, maintaining, and disseminating of research-backed, evidence-based standards that promote and enhance quality continuing education and training.

2. Accreditation Services:

Rigorous third-party evaluation processes to verify organizations in the continuing education and training space meet the ANSI/IACET 2018-1 Standard for Continuing Education and Training.

3. Customized Training and Professional Development:

IACET provides training and professional development on how organizations can develop quality training programs and integrate best practices that align with the standards into the fabric of their corporate training culture.

WHY CHOOSE IACET

Quality Assurance

Our accreditation ensures that you are receiving the highest quality education.

Global Recognition

IACET accreditation is recognized internationally, adding value to your programs.

Legacy

We are the pioneering organization that originally developed the Continuing Education unit (CEU) in 1970.

Innovation

We are at the forefront of training and professional development standards, continuously evolving to meet the needs of a dynamic workforce.

IACET provides guidance and standardization to drive continuous improvement in the quality of learning events worldwide.

Why Value Proposition

Being accredited is not just a status symbol; it's a strategic advantage. It enables you to stand out in a crowded market, foster innovation, and build trust with learners and employers.

Benchmarking

Accreditation is the gold standard in the continuing education space and demonstrates that your processes and performance metrics align with international continuing education and training standards and industry best practices.

Succession Planning

In a competitive global economy, disruption from turnover can threaten the viability of organizations. Accreditation helps ensure that documentation exists that outlines and describes in detail the processes involved in continuing education and training program.

Scalability

With accreditation, your organization gains the credibility and recognition needed to expand operations, reach broader markets, and establish a scalable presence in the ever-evolving landscape of continuing education and training.

Regulatory Compliance

IACET accreditation is a vital credential for various industries and jurisdictions enabling providers to offer courses that contribute to professional license maintenance. For example, more than half of U.S. engineering licensing boards accept IACET CEUs for professional engineers' license maintenance.

Issue IACET CEUs

Accreditation by IACET elevates your organization's continuing education units (CEUs) above the ordinary. We're the guardians of the CEU, ensuring the highest standards in professional training. When you choose IACET accreditation, you're not just awarding CEUs; you're guaranteeing a gold standard of education for your learners.

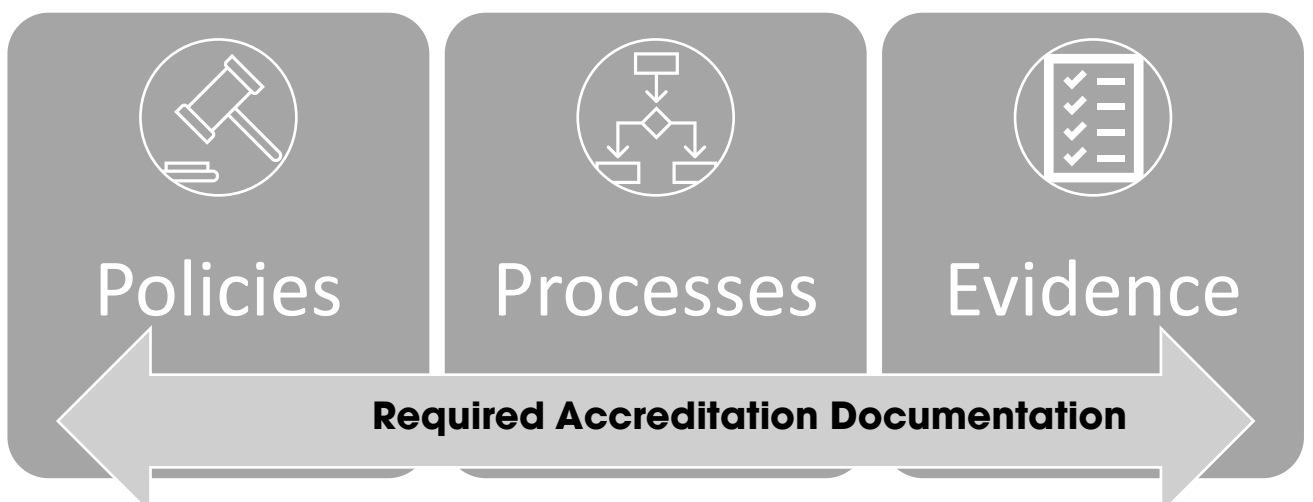

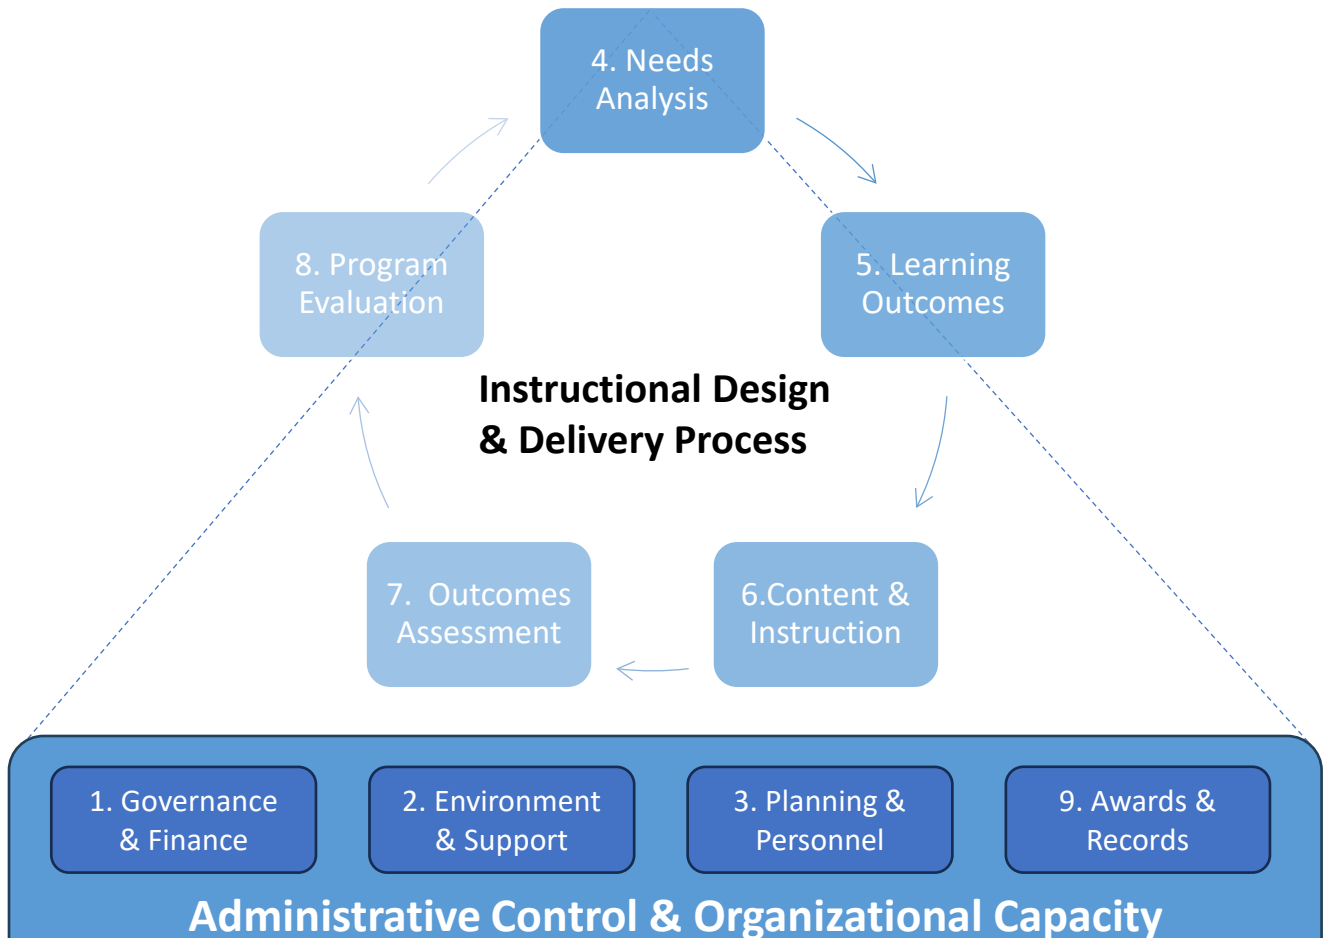

Enhanced Reputation

With IACET Accreditation, you signal to stakeholders, learners, and partners that your organization adheres to the highest standards, bolstering your reputation as a reliable and reputable provider of educational and training programs

What Does the Standard Measure?

The ANSI/IACET Standard for Continuing Education and Training measures all aspects of a provider's program development across nine internationally recognized classifications.
